Ready-2-Xecute Halal Certification

The Halal certified product would be loaded in our Kosher/Halal certified washed tanks by the shipper of the product and transported with all openings closed and sealed until at delivery where the customer would unload the Halal certified product to their facility.

We keep track of the trailers wash dates with receipts saying what type of wash was received along with what product is being transported inside of them in chronological order. ALL products being hauled in the tanks will be Kosher or Halal certified bulk liquids.

If the product is not delivered on time to expiration or someone tampers with the tank during transit the product is destroyed therefore will not be distributed to Halal customers. Customer unloading product ensures that the product is clear and maintain Halal certifications
