

Halal Statement

Ried Corp is a manufacturer of specialty chemicals and industrial products. Based on our review of the raw materials, manufacturing processes, and product formulations, we confirm the following:

- Our products are manufactured using raw materials that are not derived from pork, pork by-products, or other animal sources.
- We do not intentionally use ethanol in our products.
- Our manufacturing processes are designed to minimize the risk of cross-contamination.
- To the best of our knowledge, our products are suitable for use in applications requiring materials that comply with general Halal principles.

Please note that Ried Corp is not Halal certified and this statement is provided based on information available regarding our raw materials and manufacturing processes.